OPENING OF EMBASSY CHANCERY AT CAPE TOWN

During the period the South African Parliament is in session, the American Ambassador is resident at Capetown and an Embassy Chancery is maintained in that city. The Capetown Chancery will be opened on January 29, 1954. Effective that date, all communications, including those of an economic character, should be sent to THE AMERICAN EMBASSY, CAPE TOWN, with the exception of commercial instructions and communications of a routine and administrative character.

An Embassy Chancery is also maintained in Pretoria during this period and routine communications should continue to be sent to that city, addressed to the American Embassy, Pretoria, except those relating to administration and certain commercial matters, which should be addressed to the Consulate General at Johannesburg.

Communications addressed to the Missions in South Africa should be routed to BNA for initial.
